

PRIVACY POLICY

Revision Date: March 6, 2021

This Privacy Policy applies to you and your use of the Project Launchpad (PLP) website located at www.projectlaunchpad.com and related products, services, and transactions ("Website"). By using the Website (other than to read the Privacy Policy or a revision to the Privacy Policy for the first time), you acknowledge that you have read, fully understand, agree to, and agree to comply with all of the terms and conditions stated herein. If you do not agree with and accept these terms, you are not allowed to use the Website.

PLP reserves the right to change the Privacy Policy from time to time and will post a new revision date at the top of the Privacy Policy each time a change is made. You should check the revision date each time that you use the Website and review the Privacy Policy to see if a revision has been made since your last visit. The posted Privacy Policy is binding on you at the time you use the Website and you must not use the Website if you disagree with the Privacy Policy posted at the time of your visit. The most current version of the Privacy Policy can be reviewed by clicking on the Privacy Policy hyperlink located at the bottom of the Website screens

The Internet is an amazing tool, but it also has a downside when it's used for the wrong reasons, especially when a person's privacy is violated. It's PLP's policy to protect your privacy and at the same time improve your experience when using the Website.

To protect your privacy, we follow these two primary principles in accordance with worldwide practices for user privacy and data protection.

- We won't sell your Personal Information (e.g. name, home address, phone number, email address) to any person or company.
- We use state-of-the-art security measures to protect your Personal Information from unauthorized users.

NOTICE TO PARENTS & GUARDIANS

We want to help you guard your children's privacy and encourage you to talk to your children about safe and responsible use of their Personal Information while using the Internet.

We restrict the use of the Website to ages 18 and above and we do not solicit to or intentionally collect information from anyone under the age of 18.

USE OF COOKIES

While you are using the Website, PLP and designated third parties may use Cookies to automatically collect information from your browser, including; your IP address, your browser type and language, access times, your actions, the content of any undeleted cookies that your browser previously accepted from us, the referring website address, and subsequent websites that you might visit. This data is generally used as feedback to determine if we are providing adequate service, identify areas that need improvement, and comply with advertising and affiliate marketing agreements.

Most browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually adjust your browser setting to decline cookies if you choose. If you decline cookies, you may not be happy with the way the Website operates.

If you click on a PLP link that takes you to another website, you begin operating under a different Privacy Policy and we have no control of how other websites collect or use your data. We highly recommend that you review the Privacy Policy of any website that you visit

WEBSITE ACCESS

In order to gain full access to the Website, we may ask you to complete a Captcha quiz and/or submit and verify your email address. These steps are taken in order to protect the Website from cyber robots attempting to collect information or harm the Website and/or users.

EMAIL CORRESPONDANCE

We may send emails to you for a number of reasons, including; reset a password, respond to your questions and keep you informed about new projects and events. Check boxes are provided to allow you to choose the types of emails you would and would not like to receive.

PERSONAL INFORMATION

We take strong measures to protect the security of your Personal Information from loss, misuse, unauthorized access or disclosure, alteration, and destruction. However, no system can be completely secure from cyber attacks and we cannot guarantee that your Personal Information will be completely secure. You should be very careful about the type of data disclosed on our Website and other websites.

PUBLIC FORUMS

The Website may provide social media share links, public forums and other related features where you can post comments, communicate with other users and provide social media content. Since these are public postings, you have no privacy rights with regard to the information provided. Any information posted can be viewed, collected, and used by others at their discretion. Always use caution and good judgment when posting Personal Information.

ENFORCEMENT

If you believe that someone has violated your privacy or that we have not adhered to the principles outlined in this Privacy Policy, please notify us by email at support@projectlaunchpad.com and we will promptly investigate and correct the problem. To help ensure quick service, please use the words Privacy Policy in the Subject line of your email.

THIRD PARTY COMPANIES

We occasionally hire third party companies to provide services on our behalf, including answering questions about purchased products or services, developing new ideas and reviewing projects details. We are very careful about picking the companies that we work with and we only provide these companies with the information they need to deliver the specified services.

INFORMATION DISCLOSURE

We will not disclose your Private Information to any third party without your consent except when required as part of our business process or under exceptional circumstances, such as.

- To comply with the law or legal process served on PLP or its website
- To protect or defend the rights or property of PLP and its Website
- To comply with terms of a major corporate transaction (e.g. acquisition, merger, consolidation)
- To protect the personal safety of others during an emergency
